Your Two-Day Training Experience

Day One - Foundations & Technique

Theory, health and safety, consultation, contraindications, brow mapping, skin and pigment theory, blade knowledge, hairstroke design and extensive practical work on practice skins.

Day Two - Practical Application

Technique refinement, preparation for client work, practical/live model training, aftercare, photography, healed-result expectations, assessment and preparation for your post-course case studies.

Training is typically delivered from 10:00-17:00 across both days, with a lunch break included in the training schedule.

After Your Training

Learning does not end when the two in-person days finish. Students are required to complete 3 case studies following training. These allow you to continue developing your technique and demonstrate your understanding of the treatment.

Support and feedback are provided while you work through your case studies. Certification is awarded following successful completion of the required training and assessment process.

You will also receive guidance around the client journey, aftercare and the importance of the top-up appointment approximately 4-6 weeks after the initial treatment.
